

To You Who Bring Small Children to Church

There you are sitting in worship or Bible study. Your child, or toddler, is restless. Perhaps they're even a little boisterous. You try to silence them, and nothing. You try to pacify them with food or toys, and nothing. Eventually, you resort to the last thing you wanted to do: you pick them up, and before a watching audience, you make the march out of the auditorium. All the while, you're a little embarrassed. Maybe you're a little frustrated too. You might even think to yourself, "There's no point in coming to church. I get nothing out of it because I have to constantly care for my kid."

I want you — you mothers and/or fathers — to know just how encouraging you are to so many. The little elderly woman who often fills alone beams with a smile at the sight of you wrestling with your little one. She's been there before. She knows how hard it can be, but she smiles because to hear that brings back precious memories. To see young parents and their small children brighten her day, and she may have just received bad news this week about her health, but seeing the vitality of young ones removes — if but for a moment — her fears.

The older man who always seems to be grouchy notices you too. He's always talking about how children in this day have no respect or sense of good. But, he sees you — a young family — in church, and you don't miss any gathering. Like clockwork, he can depend on the sight of you and your young family. You give him hope that maybe the church isn't doomed after all, because there are still young parents who love God enough to bring their restless children to worship.

Then there's everybody else. Some people will honestly become frustrated by noisy children in church. They have this warped idea that reverence includes absolute silence. It doesn't. When parents brought their children to Jesus, the disciples rebuked them (Matt. 19.13-15), but Jesus rebuked His disciples. He said, "Let the little children come to me and do not hinder them, for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven." The term translated "children" in Matthew and Mark is paidon. The root of the word "pedagogue" is from this word. It defined children of either an infant state, or more particularly, it was with reference to those who were half-grown and could be either males or females.

When Luke wrote his account of this narrative, he used the word brephos; which means "infants." Luke wasn't contradicting Matthew and Mark's account, because Luke wrote that they brought the infants "also" (Luke 18.15-17). They would have squirmed, maybe even cried. This was likely why the disciples rebuked the parents; as well as that they might have thought that the children were too young to understand the blessing Christ pronounced over them.

Bring your children to church. If you don't hear crying, the church is dying. As hard as it might be for you as a parent who's half-asleep, keep on doing what you're doing. You are an encouragement, and you're starting off your children's lives as you should.

Students!

Do you have a sporting event, a play, a special event that you would like to share with others so that they may come and cheer you on? Contact Betsy Van Tassel, Ginny Lewis or Marie Howard and we will see that it appears in the bulletin if you give us at least two weeks

The difference between a good day and a bad day?

ATTITUDE!

HOW TO HAVE A GOOD DAY EVERY DAY

“Have a good day!” We are all familiar with these words spoken almost automatically by clerks, waitresses, and friends. One especially trying morning the words stayed with me as I hugged a bag of groceries to the car. “Just how does one manage to have a good day?” I asked myself. Obviously I did not have the answer.

It came to me a few weeks later through a church newsletter that listed some practical suggestions for a basic daily program. I copied the on a card and they have helped me use my days more wisely. Perhaps they can help you, too.

- ⇒ Do something you do not want to do.
- ⇒ Do something you do want to do.
- ⇒ Be quiet for a few minutes for prayer, spiritual reading, or meditation.
- ⇒ Reach out in some way every single day to someone else.

Simple, maybe, but surprisingly effective. Not only do they help me, but reaching out to someone else 365 days a year helps me say “Thank You” to God for the many wonderful things He has done for me.
